

Pressure on Warren To Become Nominee For Vice-President

Hoover and Clare Booth Luce Speakers On Program Tonight; Criticism by Willkie

By Paul Miller

Convention Highlights

CHICAGO STADIUM, June 27.—(AP)—The Republican national convention rushed toward climactic developments today. Platform-drafters announced agreement, and it was learned that Gov. Earl Warren of California might say by nightfall whether or not he was in the running for the vice-presidential nomination.

Heavy pressure was being brought to bear on the big Californian to announce that he would take second place on the ticket, running with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, if the nomination is offered on the platform, where he acted as temporary chairman before turning the gavel over to Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, permanent presiding officer, he was the center of clusters of party prominent.

In Albany, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, assured of the Presidential nomination, was reported making preparations to come here on short notice—possibly by tomorrow—to accept. Many more than the votes required to nominate already were his.

In a speech released, before Martin was able to break into a crowded program to deliver it, the minority leader of the house of representatives said the New Deal is doomed.

Tired of Bungling
"People are tired of bungling and fumbling, waste and extravagance and bureaucratic dictatorship."

"This election, curiously is not merely a fight to put the Republicans into office but by a strange twist of fate it is also a fight to emancipate the Democrats."

At the hour for Martin's speech before sweltering thousands in the hall, the platform-drafting efforts downtown to draw up a compromise foreign policy plank that would win approval of the convention—and of Wendell L. Willkie and others who assailed a preliminary draft as indefinite.

Willkie's statement of criticism, released in New York last night, caused a stir when word reached the convention and led to new speculation on the possibility Willkie might bolt the party he led in the campaign of 1940.

He kept his own counsel on this point.

Hoover Speaks Tonight
Former President Herbert Hoover, arriving for a major address before the convention tonight, predicted agreement on a plank and praised the speech in which Warren last night predicted that the state victories won by Republicans in the last two years will extend to the nation in 1944.

Some clearing of the Vice Presidential picture impeded members of Governor Warren's own delegation were reported urging him to state he will accept second place if offered it.

Supporters of Gov. John W. Bricker for President, still fighting for the nomination, contended "steamroller tactics by the Dewey camp" was reacting in the form of new expressions of interest in and support for the Ohioan.

Pressure on Warren
Warren, most discussed possibility for second place on the ticket, told the delegation before the convention opened Monday that he did not want his name placed in nomination or a California vote if someone else nominated him.

With the renewed pressure on Warren—and amid discussion also of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska, Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois—the convention looked for some sign of a trend and decision today.

California called a caucus at which, it was learned, Warren's position was under discussion.

Warren himself has taken the position he was elected in California on a platform calling for the development of projects that will require years. Moreover, he has insisted he can be "of more use" to the party in California than in Washington. But he is a staunch party man.

Missourians Will Vote for Dewey's Choice

Governor Donnell Was on Platform At First Session

By Harold M. Slater

Written for the Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 27.—(AP)—Leaders of the Missouri delegation, taking it for granted that Thomas E. Dewey will be nominated for President tomorrow, today declared a willingness to vote for any Vice Presidential nominee favored by the New York governor.

Barak T. Mattingly, national committeeman of Missouri, said he believed Dewey's choice undoubtedly would be Gov. Earl Warren of California.

"If he wants Warren our delegation will be just about solidly for him," Mattingly said. Grover Dalton, chairman of the Missouri delegation and chairman of the G. O. P. state committee, echoed the sentiment.

Mattingly said that Dewey would receive at least 27 of Missouri's 30 delegates on the first ballot tomorrow.

Mrs. Gladys Stewart of Ava, a state representative who is a delegate at large, said that she would be willing to vote for Gov. John Bricker of Ohio if he were nominated for Vice President. Mrs. Stewart, who will vote for Dewey for the Presidential nomination, said that her second choice for the

Holland Hearing On Thursday

The preliminary hearing of Edgar Holland, charged with the murder of his wife, Molly Mattie Holland, 36, will be held before Judge A. M. Harlan, justice of the peace, Thursday, starting at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. The hearing has been transferred from the court rooms of Judge Harlan to the circuit court room in the court house.

One of two women's headless bodies, found in the Lake of the Ozarks, last mid-April, was identified by the Missouri State Highway Patrol as that of Mrs. Holland, and the other as that of her mother, Mrs. Pearl Fairfax. The body identified as that of Mrs. Holland is being held at a laboratory at the University of Missouri in Columbia.

Holland has maintained that the body is not that of his wife, declaring that he firmly believes she is away on a visit.

He is being held in the county jail pending the hearing Thursday morning.

Prosecuting Attorney L. J. Harnead, today, said that he was reasonably sure the hearing would be held as scheduled.

SAAF Band At S-C Tonight

Because of technical difficulties in showing the film "AAF Report" a combat war action picture, to have been shown at the Armory tonight, it will instead be shown at Smith-Cotton high school. This is a picture shown particularly for war workers, to impress upon them some of the results in combat of their work. It is being brought to Sedalia by the army, and presented through the cooperation of the special activities committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Robert Overstreet director.

The Sedalia Army Air Field band will present a concert, beginning at 8:00 o'clock, playing probably for an hour before the film is shown.

There is no charge for the affair, and the public is invited. The army desires to have the picture shown to as many as possible. The picture is said to be of unusual interest, showing actual scenes in the war zones, and giving the public some idea of what their relatives are going through in combat service.

Woman, Said to Be 107, Buried Today

LINN, Mo., June 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Nancy Head, Osage county's oldest resident—she was reputed to be 107—will be buried today.

Mrs. Head moved to Osage county from Tennessee with her parents when she was a small girl and lived most of her life there. She died Sunday night. Mrs. Head is survived by two sons, John Smith and James Smith, both of Linn.

Herbert Cox War Prisoner

Staff Sergeant Herbert S. Cox, Jr., who has been missing in action since April 11, 1944, is a prisoner of war in Germany according to a message received Saturday afternoon by his wife, the former Miss Dorothy White, who is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert White, 214 East Sixth street.

The message follows: "Report just received through the Provost Marshal General Tates that your husband, Staff Sgt. Herbert S. Cox, Jr., is a prisoner of war of the German government. Letter of information follows from Provost Marshal General. Signed: Ulio Adjutant General."

Staff Sgt. Cox is the son of Sgt. and Mrs. Herbert S. Cox, Marine Barracks, Crane, Ind.

New Air Force Organization

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, June 27.—(AP)—Formation of an Allied far eastern air force, coupled with indications the main Japanese aerial strength has been withdrawn from the New Guinea-Solomons theater, today illuminated the northward surge of the sky war.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the new air organization will be headed by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of Allied air forces in this area since 1942. The far eastern force combines the Fifth Army Air Force, which has operated in Australia and New Guinea, and the Thirteenth Army Air Force, main striking power in the Solomons, Rabaul and Kavieng campaigns.

(This is the first Allied organization to bear the title "far eastern" since surrender of the Philippines. Defenders of that archipelago, under MacArthur, were called "United States Forces in the Far East.")

Under the new set-up, Maj. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead of Kansas City, Mo., will command the Fifth Air Force. He has been in charge of the Fifth's bomber command since 1942.

Jack Connelly Ill With Malaria Fever

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Connelly, 217 West Seventh street, have received a letter from their son, First Lieut. John E. (Jack) Connelly, who is with the Army Air Forces in New Guinea, stating he is in a hospital with malaria fever, but is better and expects to be sent to a base hospital in Australia for a rest period after which he expects to rejoin his group.

Commander Of Cherbourg Surrenders

Eight Hundred Men and Officers Follow Example

By Don Whitehead

CHERBOURG, June 27.—(AP)—Thousands of German prisoners are streaming into American prison camps today and a huge amount of enemy equipment has fallen into doughboy hands—with no one yet having time to assess the great stores of ammunition and supplies captured in Cherbourg.

The doughboys went in today to clear out the last stubborn defenses in the arsenal area on the western side of the city, and to mop up isolated resistance around Harbinvest, four miles south of the city.

One of the most stubborn knots of resistance finally broke this morning when a German artillery colonel radioed to the Americans he wished to surrender. He was taken prisoner along with 300 others.

About 9,000 prisoners surrendered yesterday, among them Lt.-Gen. Carl Wilhelm von Schlieben, German commander of Cherbourg, and Rear Admiral Hennecke. These two came out of an underground fortress and gave themselves and 800 of their men up to the American major general who directed the brilliant drive seizing the port.

Commander Gives Up
The Nazi commanders surrendered after U. S. guns had pounded the fortress in which they were directing the defense of the city.

First a lieutenant emerged from a tunnel 30 feet underground, goose-stepping and carrying a white flag. He carried a message that his commanding officer wished to give himself up.

A few minutes later Von Schlieben and Hennecke came out of the tunnel, with some 800 men and officers following them.

Von Schlieben, asked why he did not tell Cherbourg's defenders to surrender because they could not halt the American advance and their fight was hopeless, said he had learned in Russia the value of resistance by small groups. He declared he would not ask his men to surrender.

After Von Schlieben and Hennecke gave themselves up, the Americans broadcast the news to the German defenders still holding out in Cherbourg, telling them it was useless to resist longer.

One Son Prisoner, Another is Killed

JEFFERSON CITY, June 27.—(AP)—With one son a Japanese prisoner, Police Judge Foster S. Wheatley was informed yesterday another son has been killed in action in Europe.

Lt. Harold J. Wheatley, winner of the Air Medal for meritorious service as an air force bombardier, first was reported missing. Then came the War Department's announcement of his death.

Rankin Wheatley, a boatswain mate in the navy, was captured by the Japanese at Corregidor in 1942.

Youth Is Robber

KANSAS CITY, June 27.—(AP)—Police said today a youth who gave his name as Gene Russell, 16, of Maryville, Mo., reported a bandit forced him and a girl companion into an automobile, shortly after midnight as they walked along a street and robbed him of $2.50. The youth was released unharmed.

Cherbourg Falls To Allies After Battling Five Days; Marianas Capital Crumbles

Americans Take Saipan's Highest Mountain, Permits Domination of Isle

By J. B. Krueger
Associated Press War Editor

Japanese troops defending Saipan island sharply increased their resistance along a prepared line roughly bisecting the strategic stepping stone to Tokyo, reports from the scene said today.

However Handleman, representing the American press reported a big-scale infantry battle was shaping up. The firm outline of enemy defenses was emerging as American marines and infantry hammered at Garapan, the island's capital city.

The line from Garapan runs southeast to Mt. Tapotchau, thence to Kagman peninsula on the east coast.

The enemy's "brutally strong defenses" are set in the worst terrain encountered so far in the Pacific war, Handleman said.

He added there was every evidence the enemy was ready to engage in a large-scale infantry battle, something missing up to now.

Garapan, first Japanese capital city to feel the shattering weight of U. S. land artillery, is partly in American hands.

GARAPAN, Saipan, June 25.—(Delayed)—(AP)—There's nothing pleasant about either the town of Garapan or the approaches to it from the south.

Those approaches consist of one highway and one narrow-gauge railroad track.

Marines are fighting from miserable streets to streets more miserable still. Dead men lie in the alleys and flaming gasoline dumps sear whole neighborhoods. So far the marines have penetrated half a dozen of Garapan's worst streets, and they're fighting on in dust, in smoke, in the now-usual hail of gun and mortar fire.

islands indicated the city, as of today, may be in Allied hands.

Tokyo radio, jumping two days ahead of the latest accounting from Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, reported a 170-plane raid against Guam, southernmost of the Marianas, on Monday. This fairly large fleet inflicted no damage. Tokyo said in its bland way, but 16 Allied planes were downed. No Allied report confirmed these claims.

AP correspondent William Worden told of weak enemy resistance to the terrific bombardment which softened Garapan for the foot-soldier attack. Admiral Nimitz followed with a report which said Americans already were scurrying through the southern part of the town, which accommodates a population of 10,000.

Didn't Bother With Boats
Nimitz' forces made secure the southern half of the island with the capture of Mt. Tapotchau and Kagman peninsula. The 1,550-foot peak lying east of Garapan permits artillery domination of the whole island. Kagman peninsula sewed up control of Magicienne bay, chief Saipan anchorage in which U. TODAY on the War Fronts

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 27.—(P)—The Germans have lost "not less than 70,000" men in killed, wounded, and captured since D-day, headquarters estimated unofficially today.

The 79th division from Pennsylvania, commanded by Maj.-Gen. Ira Wyche, the Fourth Division and the Ninth Division comprised the Seventh Corps which captured Cherbourg.

LONDON, June 27.—(P)—German troops supported by many tanks and planes have launched an offensive in eastern Bosnia, but have suffered heavy losses in the Srebrenica area about 75 miles southwest of Belgrade, Marshal Tito declared today.

MOSCOW, June 27.—(P)—Under one of the most terrific air assaults of the war, Germany's White Russian forward wall formed by the Orsha, Mogilev and Bobruisk bulge appeared to be collapsing today, with the entire Salient of more than 100 miles in immediate danger.

Red air fleets from four fronts were ceaselessly attacking enemy reserves, tank formations and forward positions and hitting at bridges and communications behind the enemy's tottering lines.

MOSCOW, June 27.—(P)—U. S. heavy bombers operating from Russian bases attacked the German synthetic oil plant at Drobobez, Poland, 75 miles west of the Russian front, Monday, with "good bombing results," the eastern command of the U. S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe announced today. U. S. Mustangs and Red air force Yaks provided escort.

ROME, June 27.—(P)—U. S. heavy bombers attacked targets today at Budapest, Hungary, and Brod, Yugoslavia.

Supreme headquarters declared "The fall of Cherbourg ends the second phase of the campaign of liberation"—defeating the immediate German tactical reserves and obtaining a harbor for larger operations.

There were indications that Montgomery already had begun the third phase, that of engaging the full strength of the German army and defeating its strategic reserves.

Today's Allied communique was issued about four hours after supreme headquarters had given the first official word of the capture of Cherbourg with the terse announcement—"Flash—Cherbourg fallen."

Thus after five days of furious fighting Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's forces had won for the Allies France's third most important port—a great gateway through which to pour vast armies and huge quantities of war machinery.

Defeat German Tactical Reserves, Obtain Harbor for Larger Operations

By Wes Gallagher

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 27.—(P)—American troops completed conquest of the deep-water port of Cherbourg today, while a powerful British offensive swept up three more towns and punched within three miles of the eastern Normandy bastion of Caen.

In the battle for Cherbourg "the enemy has lost the greater part of four infantry divisions, numerous naval marine units, and line of communication troops," supreme headquarters declared.

The doughboys captured Lt.-Gen. Carl Wilhelm von Schlieben, Nazi garrison commander, and Rear Admiral Hennecke, sea defense commander of Normandy. Salvage experts rushed in order to make the great docks and harbor a tremendous funnel of men and supplies for the battles to liberate Europe.

But already Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery was battering out on the eastern flank, with British troops driving east and south-east of Tilly-sur-Seuilles. Field dispatches said forward elements were less than three miles due west of the stronghold of Caen, and within a mile of the main road running southwest from Caen across the base of the Normandy peninsula.

Three Additional Towns
The three additional towns captured were La Gaille, Cheux and St. Manvieu, in a stretch running some five miles east of Tilly.

Warship guns supported this push, battling against the most violent kind of opposition in the sector where the German command had concentrated four armored divisions.

CHICAGO—In many ways this convention seems out of place, unreal. Here are hotels along Michigan Boulevard which, just a few months ago, were leased by the Army and crammed with soldiers; now they are crammed with political delegates.

Across one ocean, men are battling on the Cherbourg Peninsula after a landing that seemed almost impossible. Across the other, the U. S. Navy is edging closer to Japan than anyone dreamed would be possible at this time. News of the war pushes news of the convention to one side, makes the clash of personalities, the ebb and flow of political rivalry seem petty in the face of death.

Some delegates whisper half-jokingly that perhaps Franklin D. Roosevelt scheduled the second front and the Pacific battles purposely to push the GOP convention out of the headlines, though actually they rejoice at the victories and know that weather, our allies, and military factors—not politics—shape the decisions.

But though this convention seems incongruous, in reality it is a tribute to the strength of American democracy. Perhaps no other country would dare try to weather a wartime election. Britain has adjourned politics, so has Latin America. Canada has held only provincial elections. Four years ago, certain newspapers predicted that Roosevelt would never permit another election until the war was over. But now the first hop in electing a President has begun.

Furthermore, what this convention does, no matter how incongruous on the surface, actually will help to shape the destinies of the nation. The Republican platform, how far it goes regarding international cooperation, to say nothing of the candidate selected, will help to shape not only the nation's next four years, but probably the peace of the next generation.

Dewey's Friends

Here are the men whose patient years of building up Tom Dewey will crash or succeed in the next 42 hours.

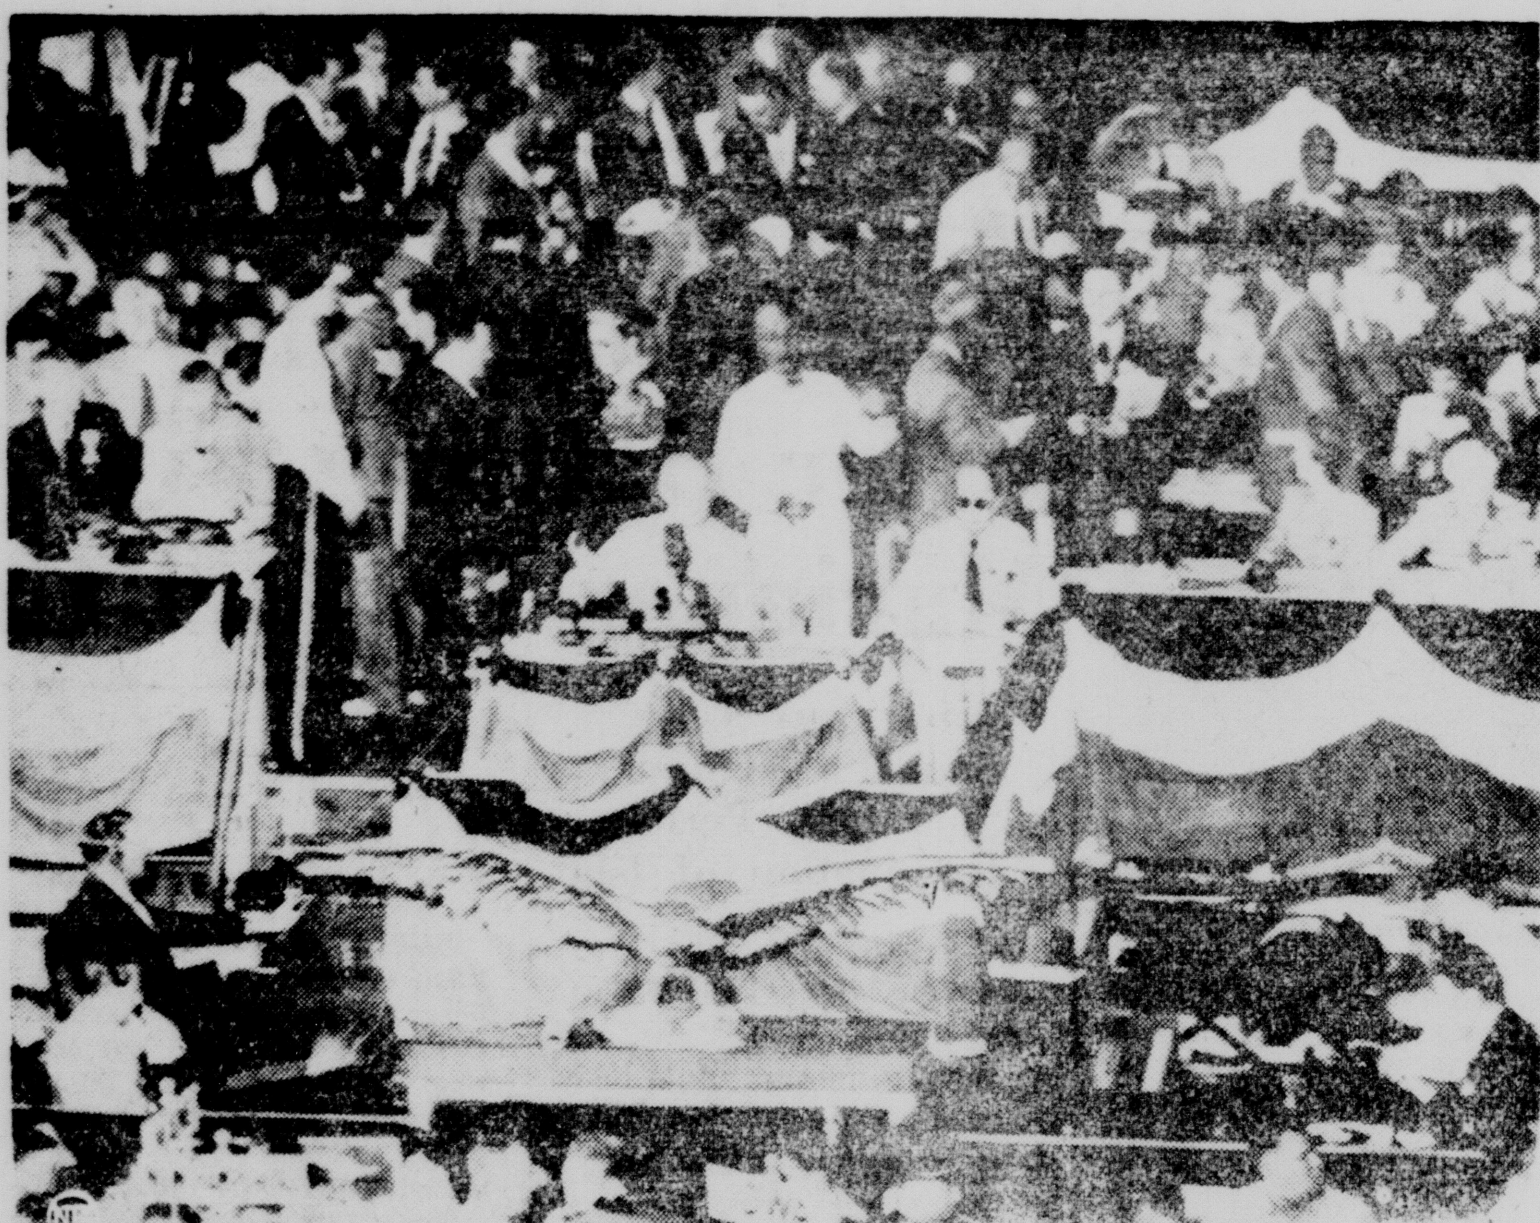

Closest man to Dewey, and the man who has known him most intimately during the years, is his secretary, able, amiable, bluff, hard-working Paul Lockwood. An ex-New York newspaper man, Lockwood guided Dewey through the early maze of political pitfalls which threatened the young racket-buster. He is what Louey Howe was to Franklin Roosevelt, and if his young protege makes it this week, to Paul Lockwood will go a large share of the credit. "Destiny," says Lockwood, "waits on no man," explaining the necessity for Dewey to run now. "By 1948, an Eisenhower will come out of the war. This is Dewey's year."

Political mentor to the young GOP hopeful is buffalo-heavy-jowled, tough-talking Edwin F. Jaekle, chairman of the New York State GOP committee. Born of German immigrants, Jaekle waxed wealthy on the job of collecting back New York taxes, became New York's shrewdest, though not most diplomatic up-State GOP leader. He would like to forget, however, that he once drew up the incorporation papers of the German-American Bund, and he has tried to atone for it by helping to found the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Considered something of a political bull in a China shop, some Republicans think Jaekle will have a tough time if he gets into tight pinches. Indiscreet, he refused to let Polish GOP Congressman Mruk of Buffalo run for re-election, thereby bringing down on his head the charge by Congressman Sadowski of Michigan that Jaekle discriminates against Poles and Catholics.

New York, was Dewey's campaign manager in his successful race for Governor in 1942 and continues at the steering wheel now. For several years a member of the New York legislature, he helped put through the racket-buster's criminal reform bills.

J. Russell Sprague, as smooth as the oysters his father used to hoist from Long Island Sound, is the chief backstage operator for Dewey at Chicago. Bogn and bred in New York politics, Sprague has been GOP boss of Nassau County, Long Island, for years but has little experience in the big political world outside. Except for George Medalie, he is the oldest of the young men around Dewey. His age 57.

Herbert Hoover was not enthusiastic about Dewey when he belonged to the liberal La Guardia group. But gradually the ex-President has become one of Dewey's ardent but silent admirers. In fact, his enthusiasm for Dewey for a time became so embarrassing that Hoover issued a public statement that he was not pushing Dewey or any other GOP candidate for nomination.

When asked about his association with Hoover, Dewey has a prompt answer: "You can quote me as saying: Mr. Hoover is a fine old gentleman and I am fond of him. But Dewey has always surrounded himself with men who look toward the future."

Republican senators, talking with Hoover last winter, got the distinct impression that he was slated to be Secretary of State in the Dewey Cabinet, but the Governor's friends have now made it clear that this key foreign affairs post is more likely to go to John Foster Dulles, attorney for J. P. Morgan and keen student of foreign affairs.

Convention Chaff

James Garfield Stewart, mayor of Cincinnati, will nominate Bricker for President. . . . Bricker's friends don't call him "Jack." He prefers the more dignified "John." . . . Bricker has been ducking charges of "draft-dodging in the last year because he served as a chaplain. . . . Lem Jones, recently resigned press aide to Wendell Willkie, served as Dewey's press buffer during the 1940 pre-convention campaign. . . . Mindful of the gag about changing from Roosevelt to Dewey as a "swap of a horse for a Shetland pony in mid-stream," backers of Illinois Governor Dwight Green for Vice President got this rebuff from Democrats when they proposed a Dewey-Green GOP slate: "What! Two Shetland ponies?"

Republican conventions usually nominate their candidate by the fifth ballot. . . . Coolidge, Hoover and Landon all made it on the first show of hands. So did Lincoln in 1864. . . . Willkie's nomination took six ballots. . . . Longest convention was the Democratic contest of 1924 in New York, which lasted 17 days and 103 ballots before the Smith-McAdoo slug-fest broke with John W. Davis getting the nod. . . . Longest Republican contest was the 1880 convention in which Garfield finally won on the 36th ballot over ex-President Grant, who was trying for a third term. . . .

Chicago is a city of shortages as far as convention-goers are concerned: Short of waiters, elevator operators, switchboard girls. . . . Mayor Kelly's hospitality to the visiting newspapermen has been cut way down. He used to hand out gold press cards which were the keys to the city. . . . Boosters

Emily sensed his antagonism, tried to fill in the breach. "I'd sure like to run out there, see what it looks like anyway."

"Oh, you can't do that," Mrs. Johnson disapproved her. "Once you're there, you're there. Unless maybe he calls you back to take a message somewhere."

"Ye gods, I knew it. Angels! So that's what you are when you get out there!"

"Why not?"

"They can't get through. All that gun fire and the smoke and everything, I declare, people are really silly, thinking he's the one who's neglected them, when they're the ones who have done the whole thing."

"Oh, I wouldn't say that," Emily straightened, intensely interested. This was something she knew about. "I did an article about it just last fall. Why, statistics show that there's more praying now than at any time in history. 'Religion's Comeback,' I called it."

"Yes, I know," Mrs. Johnson continued undisturbed—in fact enjoying it, "but the praying's not getting through. With that layer of misery that's around the earth now, nothing can get through. That's why he's disbanded the service for the duration."

"A messenger came to collect us."

"Oh, there're plenty of messengers there, the ones who got stuck there. Stranded. No contact with up there anymore."

Pinky groaned inwardly. How disappointing it all was. On the train, in the back of his mind, there had been one small consolation. "At least," he had thought, "no matter what happens to me, I'll be in the right spot to put in a good word for Martha. I can watch over her. And maybe, in a way, I'll even be able to see and touch the baby." But now. . . what could he hope for now?

Macaroni Stuffed Peppers made with Wine

WAR FOOD RECIPE

Prepare 6 green peppers, boil 5 min. in salted water, drain, place in baking pan. Fill with mixture of 2 cups cooked macaroni, 1 cup diced cheese, 1 cup diced fresh tomatoes, 1/2 cup bread crumbs, 1 minced onion, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. sugar, 1/2 cup Burgundy wine. Pour 1/2 inch of boiling water around peppers, bake 30 minutes in moderate oven (350° F.). Serves six.

Enjoy wine in the dish and with it

Not a bit of meat goes into these tasty stuffed peppers, yet meat-eaters love them! You see, you make this dish with wine—for flavor. Then you serve the same wine at table—for good cheer. The wine we suggest for this wartime entree is full-bodied California Burgundy. Get some from your wine merchant today. Wine Advisory Board, San Francisco 5.

Mother and Brother Of H. C. Sammons Die in Accident

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in Louisa, Ky., for Mrs. Henry C. Sammons, 83, and her son, Milton, 60, both of Louisa, who were fatally injured Thursday, June 22, when the automobile in which they were riding plunged 75 feet over an embankment.

Mrs. Sammons and her son were the mother and brother of H. C. Sammons, 405 North Stewart avenue, Sedalia. Mr. and Mrs. Sammons left Thursday for Louisa, where they are remaining while two sisters, who were also in the car, are recuperating.

Following are details as they appeared in the Huntington West Virginian newspaper:

"Mrs. Sammons was the mother of F. C. Sammons, prominent Huntington building contractor.

Two Daughters Hurt
"Two daughters, also residents of Huntington, who were also in the car, were injured in the accident which occurred when the car stalled on a steep grade on the Mayo Trail, then rolled back and ran off the road, landing upside down in the bed of Lick Creek.

"Miss Nancy Mae Sammons, a school teacher, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg near the ankle and also received cuts and bruises. She was brought to St. Mary's Hospital here following treatment in the Louisa hospital. Her condition is reported improved.

"The other daughter, Mrs. John Collinsworth, was treated for bruises and shock, but was not hospitalized. Mrs. Collinsworth was said to have jumped out of the machine as the motor stalled and attempted to place a stone behind one of the rear wheels but was knocked down and dragged several feet when the automobile backed over the stone.

Was On Way to Hospital

"Mrs. Sammons died en route to a Louisa hospital and her son died a few minutes after entering the institution. The accident occurred about a half mile south of Louisa.

"Mrs. Sammons had resided in Louisa in the same house for 63 years. She had visited in Huntington on numerous occasions and had many friends and acquaintances here. Her son who was killed with her was an invalid.

"In addition to her son and two daughters here, she is survived by three other sons, H. C. Sammons of Sedalia, Mo., H. W. Sammons of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Lieutenant E. R. Sammons, USN, CB, stationed at Pearl Harbor; one other daughter, Mrs. W. F. Hendricks of Echols, W. Va.; 18 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; one brother, Thomas Wooten of Louisa and Mrs. Thomas Tolbert of Detroit, Mich.

"Milton Sammons was unmarried and is survived by the brothers and sisters named above."

Approve Single Tax Agency

JEFFERSON CITY, June 27—(AP)—A single tax gathering agency to centralize collection of state revenue was approved Monday by the constitutional convention.

The legislature, which previously has parceled tax collecting powers among three elected state officials and numerous state agencies, rejected at its 1943 session a similar tax-consolidation program recommended by Gov. Forrest C. Donnell.

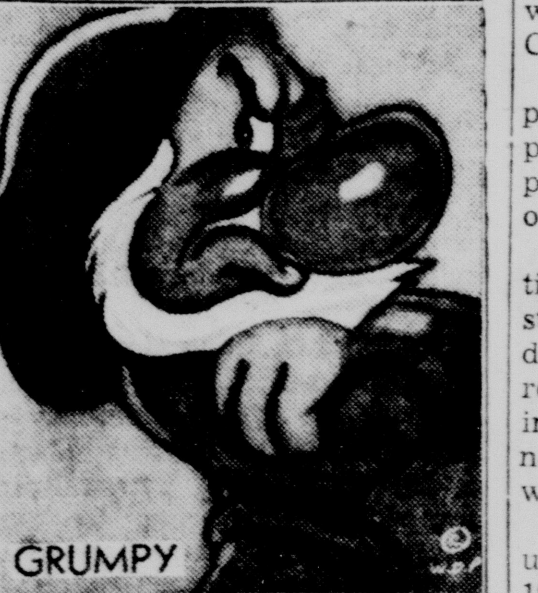

The only taxes which the revenue department would not directly collect would be those on personal property and real estate, which would continue to be gathered by county or township collectors.

At present the state's main source of income are in the hands of three officials: the auditor, who collects the huge sales and income taxes; the secretary of state, who collects fees for auto tags and drivers' licenses, and the treasurer, who collects inheritance taxes.

The proposed new agency would be called the state department of revenue and would be headed by a director of revenue, appointed by the governor.

Church News

Members and guests of the Sunday school class of the First Baptist church taught by Mrs. Leonard Hall celebrated the 13th birthday anniversaries of two of the members, Lois Jane Lewis and Vivian Walton, at the home of the former between LaMonte and Knob Noster Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Lewis were host and hostess to the group, which enjoyed dinner at their home and returned about 7 o'clock in the evening.

Those present were: Lois Jane Lewis, Peggy Thomas, Bette Belle Dillard, Vivian Walton, Alma Jeanne Hall, Charla Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hall, David Hall, Patricia Van Hoose, Jean Swegles, Ira Kay Espe, Bobbie Lewis, Mrs. Louella Swegles, Mrs. Ella Cryder and Mr. and Mrs. George L. Lewis.

In shipyards throughout the country, Paul V. McNutt, War Manpower Commission chairman, reported Monday.

The recent naval battle in the Pacific McNutt said, "has thrown into bold relief the urgent need for additional manpower to many navy yards and private ship yards on the west coast."

Greater Unity To End War

J. C. Miller In Address Before Rotary Club

We have four objectives in fighting this war, said J. C. Miller, president of Christian college at Columbia, Mo., who spoke to the Rotary club members and Rotarians at a dinner meeting in the Ambassador room of the Hotel Bothwell Monday evening.

"We fight for these things—to preserve liberty, to spread democracy, to establish greater world units, and to attempt to do the thing for which we have so long hoped for—end wars."

Outlining briefly these objectives, Mr. Miller remarked on the simplicity and constancy of the ideals expressed in the world's great documents, from the Magna Charta of 1215 to the Declaration of Independence and the Gettysburg address.

He expressed his hope that there may be some sort of "world organization" in the postwar era for the establishment of peace and the abolition of death and destruction. Four powers may be adopted to bring about this sort of world, he declared, and these must be coordination—force, authority, and law.

Officers Installed

Frank Bryant was succeeded Monday night for the office of president by Lawrence Barnett. Installation of officers was under the direction of Guy Peabody, who expressed the ideals for which Rotarians stand. Following are other officers and directors: Nolen Bricken, vice-president; F. W. Brink, secretary; Henry Harris, treasurer; Frank Bryant, N. E. Randall, J. U. Morris, directors; Sergeant-at-Arms, Oscar De Wolf.

Bryant was presented a past president's pin in appreciation for his service during the past year and a half. A corsage was presented Mrs. Barnett, and Mrs. Bryant was honored with a bouquet.

The Rev. J. Fred King inducted formally the following new members: Lee Peabody, E. A. Edwards, Fred Arbogast, Douglas Kennedy, Henry Naugel and Wilford Perkins.

A musical program was given by Abe Rosenthal, his daughter, Miss Joann, and Mrs. B. B. Bettis. They first presented, "Play Fiddle Play," Mr. Rosenthal violin, Miss Joann, piano, and Mrs. Bettis voice. Mr. Rosenthal and daughter played Vienna Waltz, Spanish Dance, Poem, or Moonlight Madonna, and the concluding number was by the three musicians, "Smoke Gets in Your eyes."

Willkie Opposes Foreign Plank

NEW YORK, June 27—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee in 1940, Monday night in a statement said he was opposed to the proposed foreign relations plank under consideration by the party's national convention in Chicago.

He called the plank "no effective international force for the suppression of aggression" and said the "net result would be no international organization."

Willkie said the proposed plank was read to him by telephone from Chicago this afternoon.

He quoted the foreign relations plank adopted by the Republican party in 1920, setting forth the party's views for the preservation of peace throughout the world.

"The Republicans won the election of 1920," Willkie said in the statement. "A Republican president claiming that he in no way repudiated the party's platform, immediately after the election announced that the League of Nations was dead.

Social Events

Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Ehrler, who with their daughter, Elaine, of East St. Louis, Ill., formerly of Sedalia are visiting here, were dinner guests Sunday noon of Dr. and Mrs. Frank R. Morley, 1520 West Broadway, at the Sedalia Country club. Other guests were: Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Walter, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Geiger and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Sneed.

That evening Mr. and Mrs. Ehrler were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Walter at the family night supper at the Country club.

Mrs. John Sneed, rural route 4, entertained a group of Mrs. Ehrler's close friends at a 12:30 o'clock luncheon Monday at Hotel Bothwell and also honored her sister, Mrs. James McAninch of Marshall, who is a guest for several days of Mr. and Mrs. Sneed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ehrler and Elaine, who are staying at Hotel Bothwell, were guests for dinner there Monday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Valkenburg, 917 South Osage avenue.

Mrs. Morley entertained guests this afternoon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse at the game day luncheon and card party honoring Mrs. Ehrler.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Overstreet, 1206 South Carr avenue, will have Mr. and Mrs. Ehrler as their guests for dinner at the hotel. The occasion also will be in celebration of Mr. Ehrler's birthday anniversary.

Mr. Mr. and Mrs. Ehrler and daughter, who arrived Saturday night, plan to leave Wednesday to return to their home.

A surprise birthday dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mrs. H. B. Greer, 1918 South Grand avenue, in honor of Mrs. E. B. Payne.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rader, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tooter, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Greer and family, Mr. I. Magariel, Mrs. J. B. Greer, Mrs. Walker Vaughan and Mrs. H. B. Greer.

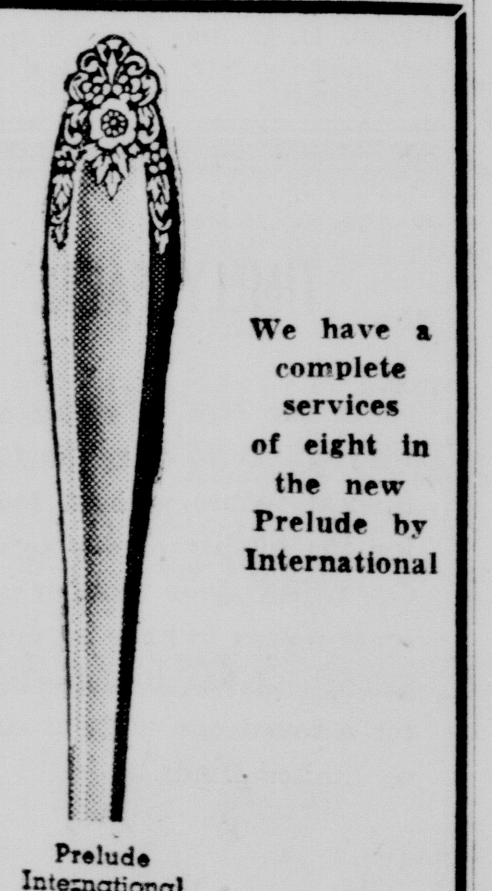

The Sedalia Officers' Wives club will meet at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Hotel Bothwell on the mezzanine floor for a dessert luncheon and bridge party.

All officers' wives are invited. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Carl T. Doeing, phone 2182, by Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

The younger piano pupils of Miss Mabel DeWitt will present the following program at her home, 717 East Ninth street, tonight at 8 o'clock:

"Dance of the Marionettes" (Adams), Joan Harrel; "Marching" (Curtis), Larry Sims; "April Showers" and "Hasten, Little Shepherd" (Williams), Dixie Lee Bryan; "Marketing" (Benson), Janice Puckett; "Sunshower" (Gest), Joan Puckett; "Moonlight Dance" (Rebe), Gloria Flores; "In the Care of the Dwarfs" (Wright), Robert Smith; "Dancing Wavelets" (Aaron), Dolores Buso; "The Advance Patrol" (Tibbets), Betty Jo Buso; "The Cuckoo" and "Brownies' Drill" (Jesse), Albert Fox; "March of the Wooden Soldiers" (Jessel), Joe Baker. "Sammy Sambo Plucks His Banjo" (MacLochlan), Ruth Ann Fender; "Vale of Song" (Rolf), Jimmy Fender; "Land of Hope and Glory" (Elgar), Leo Eickhoff; "Caprice" (Goodrich), Patty Sue Green; "Clementina Capers" (Rosner), Eleanor Wolfel; "Castanets" (Rebe), Stanley Gwinn; "Yellow Butterfly" (MacLochlan), Elaine Bohon; "Calif of Bagdad" (Benson), Robert Stanley; "Sylvia" (Speaks), Patricia Denny; "Valse in E-flat" (Durand), Dorothy Monberg; "Allegretto" (Haydn), Marjorie Liebel; "Hungary" (Koelling), Winifred Graham.

The women they'll never forget!

THIS WAS A RED-LETTER DAY for Jim—the soldier who had lost the use of his leg at Salerno. For this day he walked—strictly alone—for the first time in months. To Jim, it was a miracle. To the Wac who had coached him so long and so patiently, he said, "Sister, if I live to be a million, I'll always remember you for this."

THIS IS A WORLD WAR. The most terrible of all recorded events in human history.

And this is what the Wacs—the women soldiers of our Army—are doing about it:

Working in critical hospital jobs. Helping to restore the broken bodies and spirits of fighting men.

Working as lip-readers. Helping blind men to see again through knowledge of Braille. Working as laboratory technicians. As pharmacists. As psychiatric assistants. As ambulance drivers.

Working in control towers. Making strategy maps for invasion.

Manning the giant switchboards that send combat orders winging to tensely waiting bomber crews.

Working night and day at vital jobs. Jobs that will speed the day of liberation—and give us peace again.

These are the women "they'll never forget"...

Gallantly, a new page is being written into American history by the women of the Women's Army Corps.

Pictures GOP On Its Way Back

Gov. Warren, Of California, In A Pledge For Enduring Peace

CHICAGO, June 27—(AP)—Governor Earl Warren of California pictured the Republican party Monday night as triumphantly on its way back to power and pledged that it will guide the country to an enduring peace and prosperity.

In a keynote speech for the party's national convention, Warren presented as "our job": "To get our boys back home again—victorious and with all speed."

"To open the door for all Americans—to open it, not just to jobs, but to opportunity."

"To make and guard the peace so wisely and so well that this time will be the last time that American homes are called to give their sons and daughters to the agony and tragedy of war."

Denounces 'Bureaucracy'

Warren denounced what he called the Roosevelt administration's "Arrogant, power-intoxicated bureaucracy," but his 4,000-word speech was chiefly one of praise for his own party and assurances that the Republicans know how to, and will, bring about a lasting peace with victory, and good post-war conditions for business, labor, farmer and city dweller alike. "We are here to make the road on which America can march toward victory, toward opportunity, toward peace," he told the convention delegates gathered in the vast Chicago Stadium.

"Certainly we are not here to look for a road back to some status quo," he continued. "There is no status to which we could or should return. x x x we believe that America wants to get going and keep going."

"In that spirit we can be confident for the future. It will not be easy. We have nothing easy to offer. Dark days lie ahead. We have no tricks to escape them. We expect tough going and we are ready for it. There is no pessimism, no bitterness, no jauntiness among us."

'Changing Steeds'
Predicting that the Democrats will seek to reelect President Roosevelt with the theme song of "Don't change horses in the middle of the stream," Warren said that "for eleven long years we have been in the middle of the stream."

Further, he declared that all over the country the voters are changing from Democratic horses to Republican steeds and their representatives in congress.

"Three out of every four Americans now live under Republican state administrations," Warren said. "In Washington, where the bureaucrats live, there is still a Democrat in the White House. But out where the people live, the country is predominantly Republican."

The states with Republican administrations, he declared, have been called on to produce "more than 81 per cent of all our airplanes x x x more than 76 per cent of all our ships x x x more than 87 per cent of our ordinance."

Recalling that President Roosevelt said some months ago that "Dr. New Deal" had been replaced by "Dr. Win-The-War," Warren declared "from the record of these states it is clear that Dr. Win-The-War is a Republican."

'War Out Of Politics'

Warren gave as "our first objective": "To keep the war out of politics and politics out of the war; to strengthen, among us, that spirit of single-mindedness, of unity, of self-forgetfulness that will hearten our military leaders, strengthen their hands and speed the day when, having bivouacked along the main streets of Germany and Japan, they will lead our boys victoriously home again."

Returning servicemen, Warren emphasized, will want "money making jobs in private industry" and not "government made jobs."

And the Republicans, he declared, "know what it is that makes jobs and opportunity. We know that private production makes them."

On the subject of peace Warren made these main points:

"We want a peace that is based upon realities and not upon the insecure foundation of mere words or promises. That means a peace which, being mindful of the interest of other nations, does not neglect or sacrifice the interests of our own nation."

"None of these aspirations can be realized under a leadership that plays power politics on a world wide stage."

Turning to the Roosevelt administration, Warren said:

"We believe the New Deal is leading us away from representative government. x x x we believe the New Deal is destroying the two party system. x x x it retains its power by patronizing and holding together incompatible groups."

"The leaders of its inner circle are not representatives of the people. They are the 'personal agents of one man.'"

"The cabinet has ceased to be a voice and has become an echo. Congress, wherever possible, has been circumvented by executive decree."

"Both congress and the judiciary have been intimidated and bludgeoned to make them service. "Over all of us is the ominous, gargantuan figure of an arrogant, power-intoxicated bureaucracy."

Fire Damage At Kresge Store Building

The fire departments were called to the Kresge store building, 306 South Ohio avenue, shortly after 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, where considerable excitement had been created by a slight blaze in a second floor room used by the store employees as a dressing room.

For sometime, the firemen could not determine whence came the alarm, but checked the fire quickly. There was no serious damage to the building. Several pairs of shoes and other clothing were ruined.

Army To Drop 'WASP' Training

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—The discontinuance of all "WASP" training by the army air forces as soon as the student pilots now in school have completed their courses was announced Monday by Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding the army air forces.

The WASP—Women Air Service Pilots—now has 721 women pilots on active duty, and those now in training will increase the number to 1,019 by December, Arnold said.

The general said the decision not to admit any additional candidates for the organization was based on the rejection by the house last week of the Costello bill to give members of the WASP the status of commissioned officers in the army.
